Dear Madam, Sir,

I write to inform you about widespread misuses of modern bio-technologies by the intelligence agencies of today's major powers by secret policy goals and in counteraction of a coalition of Third World Countries and worldwide operating private, independent defence leagues.

The US CIA investigates from the late 40ies in its bio-chemical laboratories systematically naturally found venoms and synthesized toxins for their incisive effects on the human body, drawing also on exotic plants and animals, voodoo rites, pseudo-medical experiments in Nazi concentration camps. They scaled up their R&D efforts in the 50ies rapidly and synthesized new classes of toxins, in goal depraved and outlawed, in concurrence with their, US Military and NATO development of biological, chemical and radiation weapons.

In one project they research into the anatomy, physiology and pathology of the central and peripheral nervous systems in intentional misapplication of medical technologies to manipulate bio-chemical-electrical processes, determining ethical, social, intellectual, motivational, emotional, motoric and sexual behavior. Another project researches structures and mechanisms of the human genome, in intentional misapplication of mutagenic-, hybridization- and recombinant DNA technologies to cause with bio-technological incisions into the genotype changes in the phenotype, manipulating the human gene pool and also plant and animal life. As goal has been set up the construction of the first 'biological bomb' with peace time application of blanket mass poisoning of food and water supplies with gene altering agents and graded mass control of individual physiologic, neurologic and genetic processes of their own and foreign populations. Present state of the art technology with a program of systematically planted toxins manipulates political-psychological profiles of millions of people of all groups of society a year worldwide.

A coalition of the majority of Third World Countries and several larger, private parties and independent defence leagues have escalated their investigations into the security agencies of the Western Atomic Powers and NATO, of Russia, Japan, Germany, Israel and Saudi Arabia into a global dirty high-tech war under an apparently calm surface between all existing and new emerging groups. Today their enforcement operations comprise an almost gapless worldwide system of labor camps.

- 1) Extermination camps: executioners eliminate more than one thousand people a year.
- 2) Gas chambers: hit teams spray with concentrated nerve gases thousands of people a year.
- 3) Radiation camps: hit teams incapacitate by wave-particle beams thousands of people a year.
- 4) Labor camps of sadism and sodomy: hit teams mass drug hundreds of millions of people a year.
- 5) Labor camps of behavior manipulation: hit teams mass drug millions of people a year.
- 6) Labor camps of subversion: agents promote massive human rights violations around the world.
- 7) Dissection camps: hit teams field test new toxins like genetic agents on millions of people a year.
- 8) Labor camps of deception: spies record in total information control hundreds of billions of conversations, objects like buildings, equipment and documents, electronic data, individual brain wave mappings, genetic fingerprints and physiological processes by electronic means per day.
- 9) Propagating the total lie, in the name of humanity they suppress publication of the unleashing of multiple, uncontrolled dangers of the extinction of mankind.

Secret Policy Goals

A national security planning group of a major power's national security council states the long term security and secret policy goals for theater and political-social-psychological operations on national and global scales, authorized by executive order, though they are violations against constitutional standards and international conventions, eg technological superiority of military forces, intelligence and homeland security agencies, aggressive weapon R&D programs over the spectrum of conflicts, a monopoly in key security technologies, a control structure over major R&D programs, a credible deterrence with ABC weapons for multiple overkill, a worldwide presence of forces, massive use of force doctrine, control over political-religious-economic-social structures and processes, total information control and point censorship of the press, a machinery of stalking, slander, harassment and discrimination, torture by deterring, degrading bestiality, manipulation of individual psychological profiles and in planning of demographic structures of entire populations.

Medium term policies are set up accordingly. An initiated research project with spread out, out-sourced subprojects is funded, tested, set up for operation, departmentalized and institutionalized, eg the CIA's operation CHAOS in the cold war to disrupt lawful first amendment activities at home and abroad.

Research panels of the military, intelligence and security agencies develop the arsenal of compact weapon architectures out of an array of large scale research programs to exhaust scientific-technological capabilities in space, in air, at sea, at land from blanket to graded, single to large scale, intercepting to retaliating, non-lethal to lethal tools, mainly in misuses of physics, chemistry, biology, genetics, medicine and computer science. Crime out of the most advanced technology corrupts in first line basic human living conditions as it cannot be perceived by the senses in the very small, very distant and difficult to detect. Taken advantage of is the vulnerability of man in his physiological constitution against traces of designed viruses, toxins and also hostile environmental-social conditions. Toxins can be eg bio-chemical agents, electrical current, electro-magnetic-thermal-optical wave-particle radiation, neurologically coded misinformation and mechanically operating nano-devices. New classes of micro-weapons and toxins, their technology the 'key to power' in this to the next century, manipulating neurological, physiological and genetic functions, cripple mostly man's inner freedoms of thought and movement.

Priority of security planning over general, public interests, as those find a balance in democratic processes through social weights and public discussion of issues, is achieved through representation in administrative departments, security panels of the legislative and political parties, commercial security panels, public relation campaigns for justification of security apparatus and armament programs, a policy of national security in all facets of life and total political-social control. Programmed by clandestine technological means is a high degree of political uniformity, a consuming, non-questioning, non-probing, non-knowing conformity. A population remains in its behavior illusion guided as it is bare of convictions, ethics, reason, maturity, real life experience with legal means of defence: a clandestine, constitutional revolution has established image fascism, tools of deception enforced with tools of violence.

Third World Countries and Private Defence Leagues

A coalition of the majority of larger and smaller Third World Countries, supported by Russia, and a multitude of private, independently recruiting defence leagues duplicated the system of labor camps, all in arrogance of power, to increase its size globally by several magnitudes. Main goals are predominance in clandestine bio-tech, chem-tech and rad-tech tools with communication, surveillance and delivery systems, suppression of any attempt towards publication of clandestine undercover methods, for the Third World political, military, economic, social counter-leverage against the Western Powers, revenge for 500 years of dehumanizing treatment and the desire to lay waste depraved political, scientific, industrial leadership.

Enforcement Operations

The security agencies of the western powers enforce political conformity in their countries with international intelligence agreements, eg information sharing and division of labor. Drawing on total information control, the CIA/FBI, the British and French Secret Service and the German BND/VS channel government personnel, within their populations at large groups perceived as dissidents and fringe groups like sympathizers of and defectors from opposite ideological camps. Military intelligence and its community channel military personnel, within the population groups like antiwar activists, pacifists and draft resisters. The security organizations of western industries channel management personnel, within the population work ethics and economic behavior.

High tech command centers within security bases supervise production lines of the toxins, storage, delivery and set off systems, a global satellite telecommunication and surveillance system, a global network of operatives and covered operations. The data gathered are stored and evaluated by advanced nano-technology data processing equipment. The US NSA eg employs over 50 000 administrators, analysts, scientists, technicians and operatives nationwide.

Poison dispensers in form microscopically tiny pellets, containing toxins in gelatin skin, microchip, receiver, emitter, nano-robot, tiny listening and video devices and bio-chemical-electrical-thermal-genetic sensors are produced by the millions in microchip precision engineering. As depot poison pellets they are implanted directly or placed on a carrier like an unknowing person or any object of daily use or a drink water reservoir or any stage of the food chain or a space based gliding probe - flying drone device to be electronically guided into the vicinity of the target. They can be spun off several times out of multiple layers of equally tiny, hair like pneumatic guns with an effective range of about 30 feet to be shot in. Nobots channel the pellets into site specific body tissue. They are applied blanket and graded, narrow and wide, random and selective, scattered and systematic, limited and open ended, in closed and open mediums, contained and epidemic, preparatory and acute and are set off electronically, time locked, by a preprogrammed code signal or within body tissue by sound or voice or toxin concentration or neurological process recognition.

1) There is not one major security agency around the world that does not have its killing fields. Also the military security department of NATO operates an assassination squad to eliminate terrorists, who are intercepted in preparations, foreign agents, who penetrate security areas, traitors, who sell security information, deserters, who are caught up with behind hostile lines, security risks, who threaten to impair personnel and operations and critics, who become a formidable voice in public. The assassinations are priority operations, well organized and quiet. A small intelligence court reviews the evidence, the target is pumped up with depot poison pellets, send to or caught up in a remote area, death follows in a break down or an accident, a death certificate is issued, citing an apparent natural cause of death. Where isolation of the target is not possible, it is incapacitated, discredited and eliminated by a terminal disease like cancer.

Uncovered foreign operatives and own double agents for example by NATO are hung up at backwards crossed arms over a wall urinal in a basement of a remote station to be tortured by mechanical, electrical, radiative and bio-chemical means like CIA psycho and sodomy drugs for 2 - 8 days. The victim is dead, when all body fluids stopped dripping.

2) For gas chambers targeted are mainly groups, perceived as dissidents like the leadership of an oppositional movement. Military nerve gases attack specific functions of the central nervous system like wake awareness, memory, concentration, reaction, coordination and balance, the peripheral nervous system with loss of physical power, agility and flexibility. Industrial toxic gases often are carcinogens, reducing the pulmonary system, physiological functions and inducing tumorous growth in the long term. In debasement of the dignity of man with spiritual gifts, crippled are intellectual und physical strengths to the point of disability to perform tasks of every day life.

From cartridges and pellets gassed are entire streets, buildings, trains, busses, cars, assembly halls and swimming pools. Nerve gas pellets are attached to any object of daily use, the set off signal timed for maximum toxic concentration at time of exposure. The target's home is laced mostly with by odor imperceptible dosages for long term effects, if not the bedroom itself is used as death chamber. H. Kohl und B. Netanjahu operated gas chambers in churches and at the sites of former Nazi concentration camps.

3) Radiation camps entrap terrorists, insurgents, secret bearers like scientists of security technologies, most wanted persons and crowds for riot control or fabrication. Utilized are lasers with a beam of light and heat, microwave emitters with pulsed and modulated electro-magnetic beams and particle generators with subatomic and atomic particle beams. Targets are by bio-physiological-neurological electro-magnetic fields over a distance at the speed of light wirelessly without implant found, identified, tracked, brain linked read, misinformed, manipulated, tortured and non- to lethally incapacitated. Equipment is electronically read, disrupted, fractured, burned out and molten.

4) Targeted for labor camps of sadism and sodomy are groups perceived as deviants, dropouts, activists and fringe groups of society like human rights activists in defence of unpopular causes, critical voices of the political system, the press and free market, radical groups of minorities and prisoners convicted for a heinous crime. In chemical rape at any place or in the privacy of the home, the target's mental, motivational, emotional and physical capacities are reduced by blocking agents and a variety of sodomy drugs manipulate in succession sexual drive, erotic sensations, sensibility of genital parts, secretion of sweat glands, speed, endurance, exhaustion, sleep, dream, hangover. Drug induced fixed mental images of perversity acts direct physical activities, while erotic stimulants have often been individually designed according to previously taken brain wave mappings. The offspring is being monitored in its mental, psychological and physical development. In psychological terror the mental functions of intention, conception, memory and operation are depressed, stimulated or distorted to the point of non-resistance against adversities and one's own personality collapse. Function specific toxins block abstract reasoning, cause language blackout, computation blackout, manipulate specific mental interests or induce a 'joy of death frenzy', supplanting every agony of torture. Stimulation towards 'blasphemy of the Holy Spirit' is achieved by boosters of fixed, eccentric theological themes and a desire to communicate. Induced is every emotion from anticipation to contentedness, from blind hope to despair, from elation to anger, from boldness to fear, in state from hypersensitivity to insensitivity. Physical strength is reduced to consistent drop-in-your-tracks fatigue, added by aging accelerators and sleep inhibitors. Unremittingly, periodically manipulated are several neurological-physiological processes to extremes not to allow relaxation. In all the target's personal development, identity, character, especially its political-ethical standards, are worn out, debased and suffocated in the suds of prostitution. The victim, often with a depot poison pellet induced, creeping disease like tumorous growth in the genitals, is in its professional work blocked, on the social level isolated, disenfranchised, from welfare and family safety nets severed and diagnosed with a mental illness. It is to die on the streets. Hit teams mass drug entire water and food supplies for years from the start of the food chain to the selected target, at agricultural producers and suppliers, in the food processing industry, at distributors, supermarkets, restaurants, the target's home and in transport via repackaging facilities. Contaminated with toxins, taken up with skin contact, are objects of daily use like hygiene articles, clothing or dryers.

Labor camps of sadism and sodomy have been set up around the world, blanketed with sodomy drugs are entire regions, ethnic groups and political fractions like the supporters of General Noriega after the invasion of Panama by US troops in 1989.

5) In labor camps of behavior manipulation, in first place individual behavior is suppressed or stimulated in its elementary physical needs, in exercise and sleep requirements, appetite and thirst, hygiene and beauty care. In second place the emotional state is manipulated from thrift to the urge to go shopping and from stress, frustration to the desire to achieve social recognition up to power madness. In third place affected is motivation, capped or boosted into go-on efforts in face of exhaustion or failure. In fourth place intellectual interests are selectively stimulated or reduced, while mental and ethical awareness are dampened to the point of unscrupulousness. The toxins are administered mostly in small dosages, depot time released to cause habit forming economic behavior patterns.

Social behavior like cooperation in teams, groups, hierarchical structures and manners of communication is manipulated out of the emotional state from diffidence to hostility, out of channeled motivation from dropping out to intriguing, through inducement of nervousness, through disruption of fine motoric in gestures and impairment of the vocal cords. In all the target's physical fitness, personal development, education, professional and social careers are predetermined.

6) Labor camps of subversion are set up in foreign countries. With friendly allies, who are regarded as reliable political partners, mutual interests are regulated by bi- and multi-lateral co-operation agreements. However, a government intelligence agency promotes its secret policy goals in any nation through direct leverage for promotion of political influence and military security interests: access to open markets and free flow of information, wash out of cultural identity, subversion and corruption of the foreign political-social structure by manipulation of the public press and inhibition of independent development of vital scientific, technological, economic and financial bases, fragmentation of political alliances, profit from their wars, in all dominance with foreign sided dependencies, superiority by determination, own resources, means, mass, size and diversity. The intelligence, counter intelligence and security agencies' operational resources are scaled up to the required size to realize their secret policy directives. They employ official contacts, manipulation, forgery, theft, bribery, extortion, recruitment, counseling, financial sponsoring, partnerships and take-overs, supported by home based intelligence analyses. Sold are proprietary information, low cost credits, logistical supplies, user rights, telecommunication systems, special technologies, tools of clandestine high tech terror. Their first tools always remains the covered operation in all hazard areas with information gathering, detection, identification, tracking, gaining of access, operation of rendering safe, recovery, mitigation or neutralization, retreat and exploitation and also spot, walk by, stalk, decoy and hit teams with a system of labor camps to control the broad base of the population and arising security risks.

7) In dissection camps selected as guinea pigs for illegal, non-consensual, perverse medical experiments are terrorist suspects, captured freedom fighters, perceived as terrorists, tenacious dissidents for punitive action, minorities in technological under-developed areas, uprooted individuals, loose pray, suicidal persons, the dying in nursing homes and intensive care wards. Tested in vivo are new classes of toxins in single and widely scattered mass applications by medium, path and speed of epidemic spread, in real action simulations statistical samples are taken from the population. The toxins are screened for their anatomical, physiological, neurological, psychological, pathological latent, present and long term effects over a broad scope, eg efficiency, selectivity of tissue specific structure and function, dosages, incubation times, side effects, codetermining factors, counter poisons, recuperation times, measurability and traceability. Sensors and toxins are surgically implanted by assisting medical personnel or are with a suitable carrier shot in by hit teams for modem like entry. A series of micro-chip based bio-chemical-genetic-electro-magnetic-thermal-optical sensors and radio emitters are placed cell specific into the body of the test object, the skull and all cortexes of the brain, eg the visual, hearing, verbal, thought, emotional and motoric regions to record neurological performance with eg sensual perceptions, mental operations, moods and behavior, are placed along nerve strands and their axons, other organs, glands, muscles, skin, digestive tract, all parts of the male or female reproductive system to record physiological performance. In addition, the victim's environment is wired up with illegal listening and video devices. The data are collected via external amplifier and satellite directly at the security agency's high tech command center for evaluation. Bio-metric mappings are analyzed by their pulses, intensities, frequencies and modulations for physiological decoding. In each case the death certificate shows an apparent natural cause of death. Eg the Governments of France and Israel developed their nerve gas programs with test series on FLN and Palestinian freedom fighters, taken prisoners, - none survived and their ashes were scattered over the desert.

Misuses of Genetics

In a global fornication race to gain predominance in all tools of clandestine high tech terror, the major powers' intelligence and security agencies press ahead with the development of bio-chemical mutagenic, hybridization and recombinant DNA technologies to enable site specific incisions into the gene pool population wide. The present state of the art techniques of behavior channeling is to be improved by degrees of efficiency, not symptoms but cause attacking, of coverage of regions and groups with stable, lasting results, transferring altered genetic strains to succeeding generations and of economy by centralized supervision of a lean network of undercover operatives.

Genetic incisions affect directly the anatomy and physiology of an organism. Primarily manipulated is an elementary trait, where the phenotype with hereditary, morphological or functional distinction is traced to a specific genotype and the individual gene or gene group as functional unit is identified with its bio-synthetic pathway. Massive, population wide genetic manipulations affect in first line the demographic structure. Genetic incisions to fix a specific trait in the public psychological profile stably, continuously and time effectively will result due to the large number of variables, interdependencies and codetermining factors in an almost irreversible shift of frame in several allele frequencies of the world population's gene pool with uncontrollable, catastrophic side effects.

According to the major powers' secret policy goals, aimed at are four levels of incision:

- 1a) Death through disablement of a vital function or through a morphological malformation.
- 1b) Invalidity or disease through a mostly temporal, local, graded manipulation of a physiological-neurological function by eg activation, stimulation, depression, deactivation, alteration, dysfunction.
- 1c) Change in the level of a physiological, often neurological capacity.
- 1d) Altered growth and differentiation of a specific capacity, mainly to predetermine the psychological profile.

Predictable behavior programming is to be achieved through bio-chemical DNA manipulations, following mainly 7a) political, 7b) military, 7c) economic, 7d) sociological, 7e) demographic criteria:

7a) Political criteria: A major power's national security council states the secret policy goal, control of all political-sociological processes and individual psychological profiles by manipulation of neurological and genetic processes to render them within preset parameters long term planable and short term correctible. Population genetics with bio-chemical strain manipulations is employed as rational, 'scientific' tool to model a population's allele composition. In a systematic, clandestine, monitored process of repetitively correcting and cataloguing incisions, every individual of the target group is subject to strain manipulations. The allele distribution of the common gene pool is tailored to a designed structure and frequency by means of introduction of desired and modification or elimination of undesired dominant and recessive traits. Individuals with genodeviant, 'substandard' traits are eliminated.

7b) Military criteria: According to the US and NATO secret policy goal of technological superiority in all weapon categories, aimed at are the construction and peace time employment of the first 'biological bomb'. Its first stage comprises the genetic identification, marking and tracking of every single individual in every country by a network of undercover operatives and a satellite surveillance system. In the second stage every single individual is by manual or pneumatic means pumped up with depot poison pellets, containing genome altering agents. The third stage, an electronic set off mechanism, furnishes the capability of single and mass applications with selection of targets, grading of damages, fixing of place, time and circumstances. The deployment structure comprises also a depot system of high tech weapons, placement of toxin locked capsules in water and food supplies and at high traffic locations and space based gliding probe - flying drone devices.

7c) Economic criteria: The economic structure is to be manipulated population wide mainly through individual basic needs and motivation channeled behavior patterns to control the key economic indicators of eg net domestic product by kind of economic activity, private investments and consumption expenditures, net savings, corporate and labor force structures, adherence to labor peace, work ethics and productivity.

7d) Sociological criteria: The social structure, especially the wider technological elite, is to be predetermined mainly through manipulation of basic traits of intellectual interests and capabilities as well as motivation, emotional state and sexual behavior, channeling each person's personal development, education, identity, character, professional and social careers.

7e) Demographic criteria: Genetic incisions, leading to individual imbalances and impairments, determine eg the rates of still born, life birth, infant mortality, disease, disability, invalidity and death and with it key population parameters, base of and leverage on social and economic structures like population size, local population density, age group distribution, growth trends, health standards, care and insurance and also further statistics like average work years, retirement age and life expectancy. Indicators of general health according to registered causes and external factors like environmental effects have become insignificant.

8) In labor camp of deception operatives funnel illegal listening-video devices into every household, work and public place in the world. Every person is wired up with multi-sensors and electro-magnetic signal transmitters to pursue him in all his prayers, travels, intellectual and social activities throughout all phases of the day over a span of over seventy years up to his demise. Total information control comprises blanket, continuous, simultaneous, remote telemetric coverage of all objects like electronic equipment and individuals in any location at input, processing and output points via microchip devices, amplifiers, satellite and ultrafast high capacity computers. Under coverage, individuals are monitored with possible two way computer to brain region signal transmission with flux invocation, maintenance, modification and inhibition.

First priority in a labor camp of deception is the establishment of a gapless early warning system against security threats to cut short any arising attempt towards publication of the employment of undercover methods or of a target's medical or legal evidence. In total denial, disadvantageous public issues are defused or eradicated from public awareness. Watchdog organizations, whistle blowers, critics and dissidents are corrupted or distracted with induced fun images or attacked in their credibility and eliminated.

As facades held up are preserved etiquettes, traditions, public images, political-scientific-economic-social illusions like a constitutional framework, claimable basic freedoms, a welfare image of government institutions, raising of educational standards and general public health. Added are illusions of human capabilities and convenience like mastery of nature and ever accelerating economic growth. Added are hypocritical ethical standards like public discussion of all issues with democratic mechanisms of conflict solving and a way by reason alone to lead to universality of arbitration.

9) Several private, independent defence leagues claimed to clean up these crimes with establishment of internationally guaranteed safeguards against misuses of modern bio-technologies. In hypocritical perversion they do the opposite. Their motivations arise out of archaic notions of prestige, power, possessions and pleasure, void of human base alternating between the poles of illusions and bestialities. The fornication race for predominance in all tools of clandestine high tech terror has reached the bottom of moral depravity, having escalated the investigations into these crimes into a global, dirty high-tech war between all factions, each against all, they attack the personnel of government security agencies, of competing and oppositional private security services and any hostile person, group and population. They tolerate the government security agencies' strategic planning, administrative tasks, R&D programs, field testing, toxic drug production lines, communication, surveillance, stockpiling, distribution, networks of operatives, mass application and funding. They retrieve their technological know-how, plunder stockpiles, shipments, operational equipment to employ the widest variety of psycho and sodomy drugs and test any new, experimental drug directly on populations at large. They copy the high tech command centers to secure themselves privately through total information control, electronic screening and bestial deterrence. They multiplied to several thousand groups, terrorist organizations according to German law (§ 129a StGB), supervising today the largest system of labor camps. Their executioners sodomize their adopted targets under psychological terror to death, attaching a perversity label of emergency medical care for victims with anonymously shot in poison pellets.

The independent defence leagues, having suppressed the publication of clandestine high tech terror since their first investigations, a breeding ground for image fascism and despotic perversion, in consequence through the stages of subversion, corruption, fornication, duplication, expansion, proliferation, escalation, have fostered these crimes against mankind to shoot into gigantic proportions. The process has been stirred up by hate as an incitement to commit any sodomitic bestiality conceivable. Suffocated in the suds of prostitution are the integrities of truth and life, giving content to the dignity of man with universal principles of unity and equality of mankind, with constitution bound government and civilization worldwide. In the outgoing decade of the last century, corruption, fornication and extinction of mankind have become the predominant forces of history.

Sincerely

Udo Frentzen
